

came to the United States in 1875. He had a diploma from the School of Engineering at Mannheim, Germany, and had much experience in civil and mining engineering. He came to Salt Lake twenty-four years ago. Previous to that he had spent much of his time in the Eastern States, and just before he came West was engaged in business in Omaha. When he first came here he was in the newspaper business but soon took to mining. Several years ago he was superintendent of the Gold Dust mine at Mercur, but left that camp when the mine closed down. Besides his mining interests he had a share in a ranch in the northern part of Nevada. In 1882 he married Miss Rose Cronin. He leaves his widow with three sons and two daughters, the eldest daughter being 13 years old.

The news of his sudden death came as the greatest shock to his family. Some report had reached them during the afternoon that he had met with an accident, and they were preparing his room, when, late in the evening, some friends, who had been informed by telephone that the body of the deceased was coming down on the evening train, were obliged to break the news.

Mr. Jensen was naturally very well known by all mining men in Utah. All of them join in appreciating his qualities, and the soundness of his knowledge.

Arrangements have not yet been completed for the burial of Mr. Jensen. The body was brought down on the evening train from Bingham, and is now at Evans' undertaking parlors.

Allred a Native of Utah.
Hugh Allred, Mr. Jensen's assistant, who shared his fate, was 39 years old. His father, David H. Allred, is one of the oldest and best known men in Spring City, Utah, where the young man was born and lived for the greater part of his life.

By occupation he was a miner and had worked in Tintic shortly before his death. The work that he was doing for Mr. Jensen was only temporary as an accommodation to the latter.

He had been married two years and leaves a young wife and a little boy 1 year old. He had several brothers and sisters, one of whom, Mrs. Roy Bemis, resides in Salt Lake City. The deceased was well known in Tintic, also in Bingham, and had many friends. He was known for his cheerful disposition and good nature, and his untimely death is much regretted by all who have met him.

Mrs. Bemis goes to Bingham today to have the body brought to Salt Lake. From here it will be shipped to Spring City, where the burial will take place.

CLOSING EXERCISES OF KINDERGARTENS

Delightful Programme at Unity Hall by Graduates Under Miss May.

UNITY hall was crowded to its capacity last evening with the friends of the graduating class of the University kindergarten department, who gave their class day exercises. The programme was a thoroughly delightful one from beginning to end, and many in the audience heard for the first time the charming groups of songs which are taught and sung at the kindergarten, not only here, but all through the country. There were the "Mother" songs, the "Trade" songs, the "Nature" songs and the "Mother Goose" songs, all given in a truly captivating way by the eight young girls who have just completed the course and who will, at the opening of the fall term, take up their work in kindergartens here and elsewhere.

Miss May, at the head of the kindergarten department, gave a brief talk of the work necessary for the trained kindergarten teacher, of the great influence for good which the training has upon the characters of those who take it and of the great field open for those who have completed its course. She referred especially to the groups of songs which are such an important part of the kindergarten work, saying that to rhythm and rhythmical sounds the best in one's nature responds, and through the use of the songs the best in the teacher as well as the child is brought out.

In addition to the songs furnished by the graduates, Miss Levy, a member of the class, played a piano solo, "Tremolo" (Grieg), and Miss Lamm, a piano solo, "To Spring" (Grieg), both excellently rendered. Miss Agatha Berkhout gave four splendidly rendered cantata solos, "Roses in June" (Gorman), "Roses in June" (Lehmann), "Twice April" (Nevin) and "The Lane With the Delicate Air" (Dr. Arne). Roy Williams, who has been recognized as one of Salt Lake's most gifted young violinists, charmed the large audience with his rendition of Wienawski's "Polonaise", and in response to an encore, gave the beautiful "Berceuse" (Grieg). During the past year Mr. Williams has been attending Berkeley and studying the violin under one of the best teachers in the West.

Following the very enjoyable programme, an informal dance was enjoyed by the young people, who remained until a late hour.

GORMAN'S IDEA OF A PLATFORM

Maryland Democrats Adopt It.

His Opinion of What Democracy Should Construct at St. Louis.

Delegation From His State Not Instructed, but Is Solid for Him.

BALTIMORE, May 26.—The Democratic State convention of Maryland met in this city today, adopted a platform and elected delegates to the St. Louis convention. United States Senator Gorman was a delegate from Howard county, and his entry into the convention hall was the signal for enthusiastic applause, as was every remark made by the Senator during the proceedings.

The platform adopted by the convention admittedly embodies Mr. Gorman's opinion of what the National platform should be, he being a member of the resolutions committee. It is confined to national issues and practically indorses the line of action followed by the Democrats during the late session of Congress. It calls for moderate tariff revision, independence for the Philippine, economy in expenditures and full investigation of all alleged crookedness in the Postoffice and other Government departments, and severely criticizes the present administration.

Islands and Canal.

As to the Philippine islands and the Panama canal, this platform contains the following clauses: "There is no right place under our system of constitutional American liberty for the conquest, subjugation and government of alien races in remote islands of the sea and for the dangers and evils of colonial and imperial expansion, and we pledge ourselves to the adoption of all conservative and practicable measures to rescue the Government from the evil consequences of so deplorable a departure from the fundamental principles of the Constitution. To this end we demand at the earliest possible moment independence shall be granted to the Philippines, with the same general relationship to this country as that now enjoyed by the people of Cuba."

"The Democratic party has been foremost in advocating the construction of an inter-oceanic canal for the purposes of national defense and commerce between the States. While accepting the result of the negotiations conducted by President Roosevelt we cannot lose sight of the disturbing fact that the methods under which the territory was acquired were in defiance of regard of law and treaty obligations toward a sister republic, too weak to resist the ungenerous action of our Government."

Denounces the President.

As to the present Administration, it declares that President Roosevelt is guilty of "repeated and unpardonable dictation to both branches of the government. We denounce him," it continues, "for flagrant encroachment upon the rightful powers and independence of Congress, and, while amazed at the subservency of a Republican Senate and a Republican House of Representatives to his orders and usurpation, we declare his autocratic invasion of their freedom deserves and should receive the indignant rebuke and condemnation of the people."

While the delegates to St. Louis were not instructed, except to vote as a unit, it is admitted that this course was followed at the request of Senator Gorman, the convention being plainly in the humor to instruct for his former field of acknowledged leadership and distinguished public services.

The following delegates-at-large were chosen: Senator Gorman, ex-Gov. John Walter Smith, State Treasurer Murray Vandervort, Congressman J. F. C. Talbot. Twelve district delegates were also chosen.

Previous to adjournment Senator Gorman, in response to insistent calls, briefly addressed the convention and said he was satisfied with the honors that had been conferred on him and that "no selfish ambition, no local pride, no desire for personal favoritism, should hamper us until we have redeemed the country and placed a Democrat in the Presidential chair."

TRAINING SCHOOL CLASS CLOSES ITS WORK

CITY JAIL MADE A DEPOSIT BANK FOR THE JARRING JACKMAN FAMILY

"I WANT you to keep my money," so my husband can't take it away from me," said Mrs. Jean Jackman to the desk sergeant at police headquarters about 11 o'clock last night. She produced a certificate of deposit for $1000 and $50 in cash. The money was accepted and the station-house straightway became a savings bank.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackman have been conducting a rooming-house at Eighth South and Third West. Last night they quarreled over money matters and Mrs. Jackman appealed to an policeman to escort her to the police station. The husband went, too. He was very much opposed to the disposition of the money in the manner desired by his wife.

"She has got hold of every cent I have in the world," he said, "and I will have it back."

The quarrel was resumed in the station. Jackman spoke bitterly and somewhat profanely to his wife, and denounced the policeman who took her to the station. When the woman left her husband followed her. Officer Street apprehended trouble and took Jackman back to the station.

"What was he doing?" asked the sergeant.

"He was following his wife," said the officer.

"Whose wife do you think I ought to follow?" demanded Jackman. "Look me up! I just want you to lock me up."

He says he wants to be locked up," remarked Sergeant Hempel. "This is the place to have it done. We can charge him with being drunk."

"You will find I am the soberest drunk man you ever tackled," declared the prisoner.

"I heard him using abusive language to his wife," said Desk Sergeant Pratt.

"Well, make it abusive language," said Hempel.

No sooner was Jackman locked up than he began to send out for bail. This was furnished in a short time and he was released.

He formerly worked in the Silver King mine at Park City, where he was injured by a cave. A jury in the Federal court gave him $1000 damages for his injury and it seems to be this money that has occasioned his domestic troubles.
